SINGING TEACHER

I've been singing for as long as I can remember – in the shower, on stage, in theatres, at gigs, constantly behind the mic – music has always been a part of my world. But teaching? That came later in my journey when my incredible vocal coach, @llocklandbell (more about this wonderful woman later!), offered me the opportunity of a lifetime to be mentored by her and work for her at the one-of-a-kind @performancestudiosaustralia. It was the easiest yes I ever said, and it was then that I discovered where my heart truly lies. That experience also led me to study my master's in Vocal Pedagogy, which has completely changed the way I sing (and live!). Now, I get to share everything I've learned through years of performing, studying, and teaching with you.

This is more than just singing lessons to me – it's about creating a space where everyone feels safe to connect with their voice, grow in confidence, and sing with their whole soul.
